

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

THE THIRTEENTH DAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The Color Line Crops Out—The Book, Cited Down Solidly to Work on the Revision of the Prayer Book—To-Day's Work.

New York, October 16.—Dr. Dix presided over the Episcopal house of deputies this morning.

Reports of special committees were first taken up. The sentiment of that to which the memorial of the colored clergymen was referred was divided. Majority and minority reports were presented. Dr. Phillips Brooks, who presented the minority report, in speaking of the church, said: "She knows nothing of the color of a man's skin."

Discussion of reports was made the special order for Friday.

Dr. Dix then took occasion to remind the convention that the thirteenth day of the session had arrived, and that no more new resolutions could be offered.

At 11 o'clock the house resolved to go into committee of the whole to discuss the majority report of the joint committee on liturgical matters. Previously to doing so, however, it was decided to pass on the resolutions on the calendar.

The resolution of Rev. Dr. Fair, of Western Michigan, providing for the spiritual needs of those navigating inland waters, was passed.

At 11:10 the house went into committee of the whole with Chancellor Woolcott, of New York, in the chair.

A resolution was offered to limit the opening and closing speeches of delegates to three minutes each, which was carried.

Rev. Samuel Hart, of Connecticut, opened the debate. He moved that the first resolution be passed. It says: "That the word 'proper' be inserted before the word 'lessons' in the heading of the tables of lessons for Sundays, for holy days and for the forty days of Lent, and that the tables of proper lessons be inserted in the table of contents." Adopted unanimously.

Dr. Hart then moved the adoption of the second resolution: "That in the morning and evening prayer, after the response 'And our mouths shall show forth thy praise,' there be inserted: 'Minister—Oh, God, make speed to save us.'"

Dr. Phillips Brooks arose and spoke against it. He was averse to changes which did not have some real significance. The tendency was toward making our church more and more after the model of the English church instead of moving in the line of progress.

Dr. Hart, of Colorado, thought that when a dozen voices sang in different tones "Oh, God, make speed and save us," the congregation would have some excuse in answering "Oh, Lord, make haste to save us."

The resolution was lost, the votes being very distinct.

Dr. Hart moved the adoption of the third amendment: "That in the morning and evening prayer, after the response 'And grant us thy salvation' and the verse 'Oh, God, make clean our hearts within us,' there be inserted: 'Minister—Oh, Lord, make speed to save us.'"

Dr. Hart, of Colorado, thought that when a dozen voices sang in different tones "Oh, God, make speed and save us," the congregation would have some excuse in answering "Oh, Lord, make haste to save us."

The resolution was lost, the votes being very distinct.

Dr. Hart moved the adoption of the third amendment: "That in the morning and evening prayer, after the response 'And grant us thy salvation' and the verse 'Oh, God, make clean our hearts within us,' there be inserted: 'Minister—Oh, Lord, make speed to save us.'"

Dr. Hart, of Colorado, thought that when a dozen voices sang in different tones "Oh, God, make speed and save us," the congregation would have some excuse in answering "Oh, Lord, make haste to save us."

The resolution was lost, the votes being very distinct.

Dr. Hart moved the adoption of the third amendment: "That in the morning and evening prayer, after the response 'And grant us thy salvation' and the verse 'Oh, God, make clean our hearts within us,' there be inserted: 'Minister—Oh, Lord, make speed to save us.'"

Dr. Hart, of Colorado, thought that when a dozen voices sang in different tones "Oh, God, make speed and save us," the congregation would have some excuse in answering "Oh, Lord, make haste to save us."

The resolution was lost, the votes being very distinct.

Dr. Hart moved the adoption of the third amendment: "That in the morning and evening prayer, after the response 'And grant us thy salvation' and the verse 'Oh, God, make clean our hearts within us,' there be inserted: 'Minister—Oh, Lord, make speed to save us.'"

Dr. Hart, of Colorado, thought that when a dozen voices sang in different tones "Oh, God, make speed and save us," the congregation would have some excuse in answering "Oh, Lord, make haste to save us."

The resolution was lost, the votes being very distinct.

Dr. Hart moved the adoption of the third amendment: "That in the morning and evening prayer, after the response 'And grant us thy salvation' and the verse 'Oh, God, make clean our hearts within us,' there be inserted: 'Minister—Oh, Lord, make speed to save us.'"

Dr. Hart, of Colorado, thought that when a dozen voices sang in different tones "Oh, God, make speed and save us," the congregation would have some excuse in answering "Oh, Lord, make haste to save us."

The resolution was lost, the votes being very distinct.

Dr. Hart moved the adoption of the third amendment: "That in the morning and evening prayer, after the response 'And grant us thy salvation' and the verse 'Oh, God, make clean our hearts within us,' there be inserted: 'Minister—Oh, Lord, make speed to save us.'"

Dr. Hart, of Colorado, thought that when a dozen voices sang in different tones "Oh, God, make speed and save us," the congregation would have some excuse in answering "Oh, Lord, make haste to save us."

The resolution was lost, the votes being very distinct.

Dr. Hart moved the adoption of the third amendment: "That in the morning and evening prayer, after the response 'And grant us thy salvation' and the verse 'Oh, God, make clean our hearts within us,' there be inserted: 'Minister—Oh, Lord, make speed to save us.'"

Dr. Hart, of Colorado, thought that when a dozen voices sang in different tones "Oh, God, make speed and save us," the congregation would have some excuse in answering "Oh, Lord, make haste to save us."

The resolution was lost, the votes being very distinct.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

North Carolina Pine in the Catholic University.

WASHINGTON, October 16, 1889.—Hon. S. F. Phillips is to be married next month to Mrs. Manning, a wealthy and handsome widow of this city. The lady's friends speak in the highest terms of the bride elect, perhaps the ablest and most distinguished North Carolina resident of this city.

I have made two visits to the Catholic University near this city, and one of the most beautiful materials in finishing the interior is the curled pine from our Carolina forests. The building, the only one constructed at present, is situated on sloping ground, a few miles out of the city, and is particularly remarkable for its massive, yet beautiful simplicity. It is built of Georgian stone, rock, trimmed with Ohio sandstone. The main central part of the building is five stories high, while the two wings are four stories.

The architecture is a combination of the structure of the pinnacles of the central part of the building and the wings will be surmounted with ideal alto-relievo figures of ancient philosophers.

The Romanesque arcades of the building will be adorned with similar smaller figures. An arcade of ten feet from the south end of the building, and the arcade entrance is to be surmounted with a mounted statue of the Lord and Savior. For one of these, Bishop Keane, the rector, has already received a magnificent painting of Leo XIII. The large public hall, in which the distinguished Catholics, clergy and laymen, is situated in the southwest corner, and will accommodate about 250 people.

In the main corridor a marble statue of the Virgin Mary, costing $500, is presented by Madame L. L. L. of Paris, and is placed near the entrance to the chapel. The corridor also contains statues of St. Paul and St. Thomas Aquinas. The representation of the latter, who will be the patron saint of the institution, is a fine piece of the statue which stands on the Pincio Hill, at Rome, and was presented by the English Catholics residing in ancient Italy.

Mrs. James F. Barbour, of this city, has also presented the university with a $2,000 organ. In addition to the lecture hall, chapel and parlors, the first floor will contain class rooms, dining rooms and kitchen. The thirteen dining rooms will all be of a uniform style, and the stairways are of oak. The floors, all doubled so as to prevent sound from traveling from one story to another, are made of North Carolina pine. The ceiling is stucco work.

Mr. Harry Martin has returned to the city to resume the study of law, at the University. His mother, Mrs. Senator Vance, is still in North Carolina, but is expected here about a fortnight. I suspect this lady recommended the use of the Carolina pine in the Catholic University buildings. She is warmly interested in developing the resources of her adopted State.

The maritime conference will be, in some respects, the most important gathering of the year. The subjects to be discussed are not simply social, or pertaining to private business, or limited to a single part of the world, but extend to a single part of the world, and the delegates have for their object the devising of means for saving human life and property on the sea, regardless of place, race or nationality.

All the countries of any account that maintain navies, military or merchant, have arranged to take part.

Yesterday the President appointed Attorney A. A. Cook to be attorney of the United States for the eastern district of North Carolina. Messrs. "G" Young, Plummer C. C. Cook and Cook have been working for several days. Hon. John Nichols also has been at the office, and is expected to be at the office in the near future.

Mr. Cook is a good man, however, and is very popular in Warren, his home, among all classes. The retiring district attorney, Fah H. Busley, Esq., has a fine record in the department, and is a better man than any other in the Republic north of the Carolina line.

Next week the Cross and White case comes up in the supreme court of the United States.

CHICAGO REVIEW.

Business in the Grain Center During Yesterday's Session.

Chicago, October 16.—Today, opening about yesterday's closing, opened advanced 1/4c, then eased off 1/4c, but, three quarters of an hour before the close, began to show strength, and advanced 1/4c, and closed 1/4c, and about 1/4c, higher than yesterday.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn. The trading was transacted in corn.

THE MARINE CONFERENCE.

The Delegates are Received by the President.

WASHINGTON, October 16.—The marine conference of all nations assembled this morning, and was duly organized; and, after a brief session, adjourned until the afternoon, when the members repaired in a body to pay their respects to President Harrison.

When the delegates reached the White House, they were shown into the East room, and the house was closed to everybody else. Secretary Blaine informed the President of their arrival, and they at once repaired to the East room. Secretary Blaine presented Rear Admiral Franklin, president of the congress, and he in turn introduced the other American delegates. The foreign delegates were next presented. Mr. Blaine first presented the resident minister of the conference, and he in turn presented the members of his delegation.

When these formal introductions had ended, the President spoke a few informal words of welcome, expressing his gratification that the conference has assembled under such pleasant auspices. He expressed his personal interest in the results which might be anticipated, and he hoped that the passage of the seas might be made as safe as it has been made rapid. The President, in conclusion, said that the object for which the conference had assembled was one which would attract universal interest throughout the world, and its attainment would be warmly welcomed by all nations.

The following is a list of the governments participating in the conference: United States, Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy, Japan, Russia, Spain, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Belgium, China, Austria, Hungary, Portugal, Greece, Mexico, Netherlands, Venezuela, Colombia, Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Uruguay, but no delegates from these countries have reported.

THE CINCINNATI DISASTER.

A Small Piece of Iron was the Cause of the Accident.

CINCINNATI, October 16.—James M. Doherty, secretary of the company, called the Mount Auburn street railway, and made a statement to-day which throws some light on the cause of yesterday's accident. He says it was a little piece of iron, not more than an inch long, that became lodged in the cut-off valve, and was found this morning by the men who took the machinery apart. How it came there no one yet knows. It was not broken off of any of the surrounding machinery as far as has yet been ascertained. By occupying the space required for the rod to move in, it so disarranged the machinery as to render it impossible for the engineer to shut off the steam.

A Well Satisfied Prisoner.

Lenox, N. Y., October 16.—One night last week one of the prisoners in jail felt the need of a stimulant, and, unlocking the door of his cell, walked out and went up to that land of spirits, Freedman, and got a gallon and a half of whiskey. As the prisoner keeps a considerable amount of money, three or four dollars, in jail with him, he secured a big, old pistol for the purpose of protecting his money from the robbers. Armed with his pistol and his whiskey, he went to the jail and locked himself in. The next day the sheriff took the pistol and what whiskey was left away from him. Jailor Tom Shell was moving and left the corridor door unlocked. The door of the cell, in which the prisoner was confined, had a padlock on it, and he poked his hand through the hole in the door and received his rations and unlocked the padlock with a key that he had. He went down stairs and jumped out of one of the lower windows.

Quarterly Meetings.

The following is the first round of quarterly meetings for Asheville district: Asheville, Central church, Oct. 20-27; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, Central church, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, North Asheville, Nov. 2-9; Asheville, South Asheville, Nov. 2-9.

GOV. HILL IN GEORGIA.

"ATLANTA IS OURS AND FAIRLY WON."

A Tremendous Crowd Greeted the Governor of the Empire State of the North in the Empire State of the South—A Great Speech.

ATLANTA, Ga., October 16.—Governor David B. Hill's presence in Atlanta to-day filled the city to an unprecedented extent. Since early yesterday evening incoming trains have brought large crowds whose only object was to see New York's Governor. At 11 o'clock Governor Hill appeared in public here for the first time. He was greeted about the Kimball House caught sight of the Governor and cheer after cheer was given, and a crowd drawn by six white horses was in waiting to convey the party to the exposition grounds. The police had some difficulty in keeping the crowds back and clearing them away from the hotel entrance to the carriage steps. Governor Hill and Governor Gordon occupied the front of the carriage and Senator Colquhoun and Henry W. Grady sat facing them. The drive through the streets was a continued ovation to the distinguished guest. Between the prolonged cheers individual cries of "Welcome, Governor Hill," were frequently heard. On reaching the exposition grounds, Governor Hill led Gov. Hill into the main exhibition building. Their progress from one exhibit to another was made slow by the vast throng which pressed about them. After visiting all the buildings the party was driven to the club house at the exposition grounds where lunch was served. The meal was hardly finished when the carriage was brought to the door and the journey to the grand stand was resumed. The orator's pavilion was placed immediately in front of the grand stand and was gayly ornamented with white and blue bunting. The 8,000 seats only accommodated a small fraction of the crowd. The people overflowed into the race course, and as far as could be seen an ocean of upturned heads awaited the sound of the first speaker's voice.

Governor Gordon introduced Governor Hill as the speaker of the day, and as he arose he was greeted by the shouts of 50,000 Democrats. When he resumed his seat cries of "Grady," came from all directions and the people would not be satisfied until he had delivered his address. The orator's reception at the Piedmont Exposition to-day was only equalled by that given President Cleveland two years ago. A hundred thousand people were on the grounds. At 1 o'clock p. m. Governor Hill arrived, and made a tour of the exposition grounds. He was accompanied by Senator Colquhoun, introduced Governor Hill to the multitude, and the Governor began his address, saying:

Ladies and Gentlemen—In behalf of the great State of which I am proud to be a representative, and for which this kind reception is a mark of honor and hospitality, I wish to thank you most cordially. The Empire State of the North sends warm greetings to the Empire State of the South. She is as proud of your progress as she is of her own. The entire North is now united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New England two years ago. He told us, as no orator in the generation since the war has touched, the chord of sympathy and charity, whose sound vibrated from Maine to California, and the echoes of whose silvery tones have not yet died away. He told us merely what we knew, but what we never before fully appreciated. He told us that the war was over, and that we were to be united in the prosperity, and the South is closely interwoven with yours. The North has not forgotten the message which your eloquent Grady brought to the sons of New